Va. Places Limited Quarantine On Swine Imnportation

State Veterinarian Dr. George B. Estes of the Virginia Department of Agriculture and Commerce announced recently that his agency is issuing a Limited General Quarantine Order (No. 1978-1) in response to a recent discovery of additional cases of pseudorabies in swine herds attributed to infected swine imported to Virginia from neighboring states.

Effective at midnight, April 7, 1978, this quarantine will prohibit the importation of swine intended for feeding purposes from states where pseudorabies is present. Also, purebred, crossbred, and hybrid swine intended for breeding cannot be shipped to Virginia from states infected with this disease unless a permit is obtained from the State Veterinarian prior to movement. Dr. Estes added that permission would be granted only under the provisions stated on the permit.

This limited quarantine on swine importation will remain in effect for 30 days or until it is amended or withdrawn.

All the other rules and regulations of the Board of Agriculture and Commerce concerning the importation of swine in Virginia will remain in effect.

RELAXATION

ODDITIES-HELPFUL TIPS

By Joy Miller

The English call it "draughts," the Germans know it as "Damenspiel," and the French as "jeu des dames." But here in America it's called "checkers," a game of surprising skill that's played all over the country for fun and relaxation.

* * *

One skillful American checker player, Newell W. Banks, played 140 games simultaneously in 1933. He won 133 and drew 7. Today, many players enjoy the game more with a Myers's Rum punch at their side. It's made with Myers's Rum and orange juice, a teaspoon of sugar and a dash of bitters.

* * *

Most good players recommend that you try to gain control of the middle squares of the board as soon as possible with a compact, wedge-shaped formation. If your opponent tries this, attack at the apex of the wedge. This move often opens the way for a man to reach the enemy's last row and become a king.

HAPPINESS IS 4-H

By Frank H. Sweet
Extension Agent

Nineteen Appomattox 4-H'ers will take part in this Saturday's District 4-H Contests at Appomattox County High School. Included in the group are: David Caldwell, Cheryl Adams, Tamara Nash, Donald Parris, Ernie Chenault, Susan Shorter, Susan Parris, Allen Smith, Philip Jacobs, Kathy Lewis, Laurie McLean, Rhonda Nash, Dana White, Virginia Robinson, Tommy Williams, Cheryl Walton, Lisa Moore, Steve Conner and Mary Dyess. These 4-H'ers will be involved in demonstrations, illustrated talks and other events from a nineteen-county area. Many 4-H'ers will win trips to State 4-H Congress in June.

* * *

4-H Camp time is approaching. Applications are available and many 4-H'ers will receive them this week during their regular meetings. Deadline for this year's camp applications will be Friday, July 7. Our largest ever camp group from this county was 178 4-H'ers in 1976.

* * *

This is the time of year for 4-H'ers to begin fishing and gardening projects. Many members assist with the family garden each year and should be taking the project. Also, vegetables make good exhibit items for the Five-County Fair.

* * *

Graduating high school seniors that are looking at possible ways of financing a college education should become familiar with the Virginia Education Loan Authority Student Loan program. Details are available from your guidance counselor or from our office.

On April 4, 1978, the Appomattox Senior Chapter Future Homemakers of America held its Annual Parent/ Member Banquet in the Appomattox County High School cafeteria.

The Parent/Member Banquet provided an opportunity for Future Homemakers to honor their parents and special guests.

Each parent received a red rose from his or her son or daughter. The special guests who had supported the chapter in the past year were recognized. Senior members, officers, the Outstanding Committee, the Outstanding Member and 9th Grade officers were also recognized.

The program was the installation of officers for the 1978-79 year. After the installation ceremony, the FHA members served dessert to their parents and guests in the Home Economics Department.

The young man tried his best to fill out the employment application. On the line asking, "Length of residence at present address," he thought and thought, and finally wrote:

About 35 feet, not counting the garage."

National Library Week was also observed by the distribution in all the county schools of over 3,000 take home brochures which described the Appomattox County Library. In addition a display of posters and books was arranged in the window of the School Board office on Main Street.

The Friends of the Library are well into the Membership Drive and those wishing to join the Friends may do so by contacting Mrs. Eleanor McWilliams at 352-5402 or stopping in at the library. The use of the library is free to all citizens by joining the Friends and paying the small membership fee additional services can be supplied to undergird the library's work. During the summer when the School Libraries are closed it would be good if parents would join now and assist the Friends then in making the library a lively place for young people to use, perhaps adding some of the programs other libraries in other counties now carry out. This can only be accomplished by increased broadly based community support.
